

1587

Raleigh dispatched a second expedition to establish a Citie of Raleigh on Roanoke Island.

On 1590, when English supply ships finally arrived, there was no trace of the settlers.

Aug. 27, 1587

Governor White returned to England for supplies. The colonists agreed that if they had to leave the colony, they would scratch the sign of a cross in a tree as a distress signal.

When Gov. White reached England he was told that all the large ships were being used in the war against Spain. Two smaller ships were sent but they never reached Roanoke. No other help was given to the colonists

Aug. 18, 1587

A baby girl was born to ANANIAS and ELINORE DARE, Mrs. Dare who was Governor White's daughter named her baby Virginia after the new land.

Virginia Dare was the 1st English child born in the New World.

1587

Virginia Dare was born in 1587 to English settlers of the "lost colony" of Roanoke Island.
The entire colony disappeared;
Dare's death date is unknown.

Aug 18, 1587

Virginia Dare became the first child of English parents to be born on American soil, on what is now Roanoke Island, North Carolina

1587

Sir Walter Raleigh's second group of colonists landed on Roanoke

Virginia Dare was born Aug 18, 1587 (died c1587)
1st English child born in North America)

1591 - The entire colony vanished
the disappearance was noted 1591

1587

Hungary adopted the Segorian Cal.

1587

1912 Dates J-BK

England & Scotland

Mary, Queen of Scots was beheaded.